

Theater Thursday Crystal Couture February 19, 2009

Costumes took over Crystal Couture on Theater Thursday. Local theaters filled the stage, the pedestals and the windows with gorgeous costumes from their recent productions. Guests were astounded by the variety of costumes on display, and the detail and thought put into these costumes.

Patrons were particularly drawn to the booth that let them design their own costumes. Swatches of material were on hand, along with tracing paper, colored pencils, and body forms. Participants drew inspiration from the costumes and created their own masterpieces.

All the world is a stage, and Crystal Couture shows you how to look great on it.
